

Puzzle 4 by Windsurfer

This challenging jigsaw from Windsurfer – his fourth for this site – will give your brain a good workout. The clue beginning “Relating to main date...” is my favourite; it is an example of that rare beast, the laugh-out-loud clue.

Clues are in alphabetical order of their solutions and should be fitted into the grid jigsaw-wise, wherever they will go. Two clues will provide the correct orientation.

- Those against this Earl lamentably included the Opposition (10)
- Worker accepting at first decision that's irretrievably made for moment to retire (7)
- Meat in fancy Boston party (8)
- Father beginning to extract pith cuts flower (6)
- Spooner's expressed refusal of girlfriend's gift (6)
- Alcoholic drinks at the beginning nearly two gallons, goes squiffy (7)
- Smoke out posh fighter trapped by chance (8)
- Specially inaugurated, out of uni possibly as this? (8)
- Panic from hairstyle not left wavy (8)
- Vision or incomplete dream (4)
- Determined press (4)
- Sally heads for jolly exciting summer trip (4)
- Kenyan revolutionary uniform that's disgusting with ticks occasionally (6)
- Gloomy Dutch city with area for immigrants principally (6)
- Relating to main date of union meeting by the sound of it (8)
- Duke, maybe VIP, goes to race course briefly (8)
- Westbound from LA; no, it possibly is at one's discretion (8)
- One drives a car that's left mostly wet, we assumed (10)
- Calming down from half-heartedly leaving Euro invested (8)
- One untidy piece of Indian cake (10)
- Almost rescue girl, it's plain (7)
- Approximately 3-metre decapod has tail twice removed (3-4)
- Impotent to protect celebrity that cannot be identified (10)
- Northbound Greek character going to island loo to be calmer (6)
- Most of county flag (4)
- Cross with you, caught entertaining adult in idyllic place (6)
- Rapper's address housing English servant? (6)

Some prize - a lottery giving nut! (6)